IN THE BEGINNING . . .

The Almost Epic Squad: What Blows Up

By Ted Staunton

Ages 8 to 12
Middle-Grade
Fiction

What if you discovered you have the power to move things with your mind?

Concentration and coordination are not thirteen-year-old Gary Lundborg's strong points. He knows the right moves, but thanks to an epic growth spurt, his execution is disastrous these days. If he masters his new power he can be the basketball star he wants to be. But first, he must save the world!

Forces both good and evil have had their eyes on Gary and three other "special" kids since their exposure to a mysterious element called reidium. Gary's gifts are called upon by secret government Department C to thwart evil mastermind The Boss and her equally nasty henchwoman Malevia Spleene, who are scheming to control the world's reidium for their own ends.

TED STAUNTON is the author of over forty books for young people, including Bounced, and is also a roots/blues musician. A popular presenter at schools, libraries and conferences, Ted also teaches writing at a college in Toronto. Visit www.tedstauntonbooks.com

BRITT WILSON is an Eisner and Harvey Award-nominated letterer, cartoonist and illustrator who lives in Toronto. Comics and series she has worked on include Fionna and Cake and Capture Creatures. HAUNTED
JOEL A. SUTHERLAND

Haunted:
Field of Screams
By Joel A. Sutherland

Ages 8 to 12
Middle-Grade
Fiction

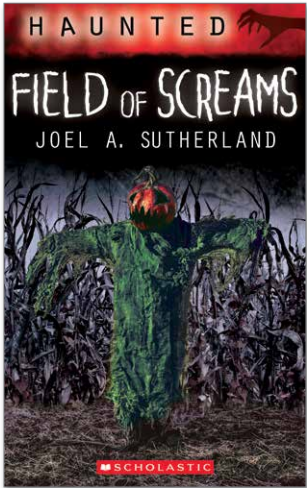

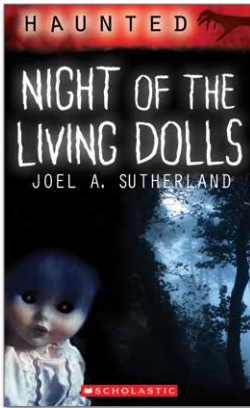

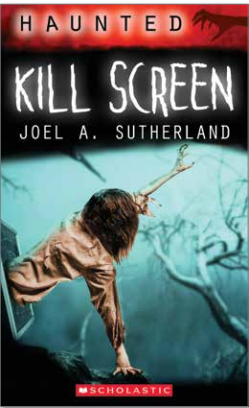

“What could be scarier than moving next door to a haunted house? How about a ghost horse? How about a ghastly murder or two? This book is CHILLING. Loved it!”
— R. L. Stine, author of Goosebumps

The House Next Door • 978-1-4431-5709-4
Matt and his sister, Sophie, are not thrilled about moving to a boring subdivision. But when they see a horse in the field at the old farmhouse next door, Sophie is excited. That is, until she wanders too close to the farmhouse and into a living nightmare.

Kill Screen • 978-1-4431-5712-4
Evie finally manages to win at Kill Screen, a video game that is said to be impossible to beat. But in defeating the game’s end boss, she unwittingly releases the Wisp into the real world. Evie must now face the Wisp again to stop her from destroying life and enslaving souls.

Night of the Living Dolls • 978-1-4431-6325-5
Zelda and Lucy feel strange being back at Grandma’s house after her sudden death. When Zelda finds a trunk full of old dolls, she realizes her grandmother wasn’t who she thought she was. And neither is Zelda’s doll, Sadie Sees.

A heart-stopping tale of the paranormal — the latest in the series!

Darius is looking forward to a visit from his cousin, Ryan. They were close but haven’t seen each other in some time. The two decide to visit Fall Fright, a local farm that morphs into a Halloween attraction each fall. The boys had loved it when they were younger.

But the farm has changed — it’s fallen on hard times. As they explore, they become disoriented and are soon lost in the corn maze. They start to panic, but then stumble upon a younger boy who seems even more lost . . . not in the maze, but in this plane of existence!

Will Darius and Ryan become the new victims of the corn maze?

Fierce

By Lisa Dalrymple
Illustrations by Willow Dawson

Ages 9 to 12
Non-Fiction

Incredible untold stories of women who made their mark on the world.

Women too often appear only in the sidelines of recorded history. Fierce shines the light on strong, trailblazing women who accomplished feats that most people would never dream of. Through wilderness, wars and more — the courage of these overlooked women has much to teach us. Their actions speak to girls who may be struggling with challenges of their own, and their bravery is an inspiration to all.

MEET Tom Longboat

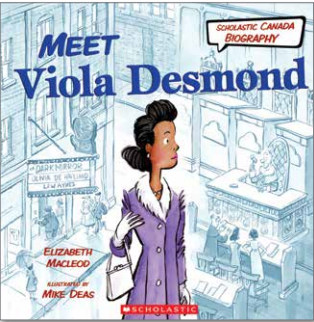

Meet Tom Longboat, the long-distance runner who broke world records and defied stereotypes.

In April 1907, Tom Longboat beat a crowd of top runners to win the Boston Marathon, one of many thrilling performances that earned him fans worldwide. Still, he often faced scrutiny and criticism for his unusual training techniques and his Indigenous heritage. Win or lose, Tom achieved success on his own terms. He believed in himself and was dedicated to his family, his community and humanity, serving bravely in WWI.

MEET Viola Desmond

Meet Viola Desmond, entrepreneur and trailblazer for racial equality.

One rainy night in November 1946, Viola did not give up her seat in the unofficial white section of a movie theatre in New Glasgow, Nova Scotia. Viola knew she was being asked to move because she was black. She was jailed, tried and found guilty of an unfair charge. But Viola and her supporters persisted in their campaign for social justice — all the way to Nova Scotia's Supreme Court. Because when Viola decided to do something . . . she did it!

Non-Fiction

Meet Colonel Chris Hadfield, world-famous astronaut and star of the first music video shot in orbit!

When Chris Hadfield was a boy, Canada didn't have a space program. Yet he dreamed of becoming an astronaut. Everything Chris did in his life — his engineering studies, his career as a test pilot and his commitment to learning — prepared him for the day when the impossible became possible. Chris served three missions in space, sharing his love of our planet and the universe with people everywhere.

On his last mission, Chris was in command of the International Space Station when a crisis hit — the ISS had a leak in its cooling system. Chris and his team would have to repair it before it was too late!

ELIZABETH MACLEOD is the author of many notable Canadian non-fiction titles including the critically acclaimed biographies Alexander Graham Bell: An Inventive Life; Lucy Maud Montgomery: A Writer's Life; and George Washington Carver: An Innovative Life. She lives in Toronto, Ontario.

MIKE DEAS is an author/illustrator of graphic novels, most recently Dalen and Gole: Scandal in Port Angus. He is also the illustrator of the Graphic Guide Adventure series. My Deal with the Universe
By Deborah Kerbel

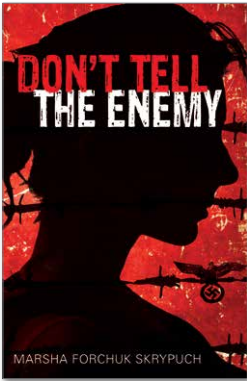

Maybe “normal” isn’t all it’s cracked up to be.

Daisy just wants to be normal. But activist parents and a home overrun with vines make that impossible. And it doesn’t help when all the neighbours rally against your family. Or when your best friend goes to camp and forgets you. Or when your twin brother’s cancer might be growing back. Will Daisy finally find the strength to take a stand? A touching novel about tolerance, diversity, individuality and the strength of family.

Acclaimed historical fiction!
Uncovering the untold stories of WWII

How much would you risk for a friend?
Krystia’s family hides Jews from the Nazis at immense danger to their own lives.

Life is becoming dangerous for Krystia. It’s 1941 and her town in Ukraine is now occupied by the Soviets. Some members of her family are harassed, while others are arrested and killed. When the Nazis liberate the town, they are welcomed with open arms. But Krystia’s best friend, Dolik, has doubts. His family is Jewish, and there are rumours that the Nazis are even more brutal than the Soviets.

Our most successful international series!

Arthur thinks he is a genius and wants everyone else to think so, too. He truly wants to be a writer, but he’ll only play by his own rules ... and that doesn’t always turn out so well.
